Biographical Sketch

Jim McNulty serves as the President of the MDDA of RI (a chapter of DBSA, the Depression and Bipolar Support Alliance), which delivers recovery-oriented support and advocacy services to individuals who share the lived experience of mental disorders. He also currently serves as Non-Executive Board Chair of the Mental Health Consumers of RI, Rhode Island's statewide consumer organization. He serves on the board of the Association for Accreditation of Human Research Protection Programs (AAHRPP), an organization founded to ensure that human research programs in the US and abroad meet the highest ethical and quality standards. This association was, in part, formed as a result the Institute of Medicine's Committee on Assessing the System for Protecting Human Research Subjects from 2000-2001, on which McNulty served. McNulty served a four year term on the National Advisory Mental Health Council for the NIMH, from 2000 to 2004, where, inter alia, he served on the Council Workgroup on Human Subjects Protection. McNulty is also serving as a member of the American Psychiatric Association's Task Force for the 5th edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual, and as a member of the SAMHSA/CMHS National Advisory Council, where he also serves as chair of the Council's Subcommittee on Consumer/Survivor issues. He is a member of the steering committee of the National Coalition of Mental Health Consumer/Survivor Organizations, an umbrella organization for statewide consumer organizations.

McNulty has served as the Director of the Office of Consumer Affairs for the Division of Behavioral Health, State of RI, and Magellan Health Services' Director of Consumer & Recovery Services and is a President Emeritus of the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI National).

McNulty has received numerous awards for his service to the mental health community, both locally and nationally, and continues to work for significant reform in the mental health and substance use treatment systems, specifically recovery oriented systems of care.
